Presentation

My Mount Crew website is intended to attract young women choosing high schools (or sports teams if they already attend the high school) and their parents by showing them what the program has to offer. The objective of the site is to showcase the history, legacy, and achievements of our program freely. I decided to create it because my coaches have low budgets and all work separate jobs, and I knew they wanted a website. I have six different pages that categorize what someone coming to the website might want to find. I used a Leaflet map, which is a JavaScript plugin, and I would recommend this for any project that focuses on a place as it makes it easy to see where something is located. My next steps are to add some more content to the website and publish it with its own domain.
